

Make Yourself Understood Anywhere in the World.

KWIKPOINT VISUAL LANGUAGE TRANSLATOR FOR MILITARY AND CIVILIAN FIELD OPERATIONS (VLT)

SUMMARY SHEET

Kwikpoint's VLT allows basic civilian and military communication to be accomplished through visual language. Military personnel point to a picture symbol to request information and the non-English speaking native responds by pointing back. Application, Audience and Benefits include:

APPLICATIONS

Terrorist Identification
Intelligence Gathering
Post Attack Interview
Force Protection
Emergency Evacuation
Humanitarian Missions
Civilian Communications

AUDIENCE

Hostiles
Allied Military
Local Military
Aid Workers
Local Civilian
Foreign Civilians

BENEFITS

- | | |
|--|--|
| ◆ Language independent (works globally) | ◆ Images cover complex weapons terminology |
| ◆ Instant visual recognition | ◆ Compact, light and durable |
| ◆ Supplements one-way electronic translators | ◆ Not affected by dialect variations |
| ◆ Does not require power supply | ◆ Quick weapons recognition |
| ◆ Two-way communication | ◆ Aids civilian translation |
| ◆ Economical allowing all troops to carry | ◆ Provides world map and flags |
| ◆ Not affected by background noise | ◆ Civilian version field-tested since 1991 |
| ◆ Nearly one million Civilian versions used | ◆ Tool to assess need for interpreter |
| ◆ Overcomes terminology barriers | |

SAMPLE SCENARIOS

Learn from a Local Civilian that a road is mined.

Make Yourself Understood Anywhere in the World.

Learn from a Hostile that a local militia has a RPG and choppers are vulnerable.

Learn from a Local Military what a local warlord looks like and where he is.